

Core Values Activities

Overview:

The purpose of these activities is to help learners become familiar with the official English translations of China's twelve core values. After completing these activities, they will analyze how the values are currently incorporated into English language textbooks and make decisions about how they could include the values in their future teaching. At no point during any of the activities are the words directly taught to the students.

Matching Game:

Learners work with a partner to play a matching game: Core Values Game. So as not to overload the system, they use one phone per pair. Half the pairs begin with Game 1, the other half with Game 2, and then they switch.

Follow up Activity:

1. Working with their partner or individually, students first fill in the middle column of the table by choosing English words from the Word Bank.
2. Then, they work with their partner to come up with an example of each value.
3. Different pairs are asked to share their examples with the whole class.
